

REAP Member’s Survey, July – September 2021. Findings

Aims

- To establish personal contact to start to build a relationship with our members
- To find out more about our members, their volunteering interests, skills and experiences
- To find out what activities and priorities our members want REAP to pursue

Method

The trustees each contacted a block of members by phone or email inviting them to participate in a short survey. The membership list in mid July 2021 was used (66 members) Telephone interviews were carried out using a prepared script. (Appendix 1) A small number of members emailed their answers. The 7 trustees were not included in the survey.

Total members @15 July	66
Completed survey	44	67%
Did not participate	9	14%
Did not respond to contact	11	17%
Not contacted	2	3%

The members who did not participate had either moved away or had personal or family health issues which prevented them for taking part in the required timescale.

NB. The membership has increased considerably since the survey was carried out and is currently 174 (31 October 2021) This means that we have the views of c 25% of our current membership.

Section A. What the survey told us about our members

Why they joined

REAP’s local focus was the most important factor for our members. People were also attracted by visible REAP activities (Farmer’s Market, Edible bed and garden activities) and the focus on environmental issues which fitted with their personal values. A smaller number specifically mentioned concerns about global warming or climate change. (NB. Some members gave several reasons which have all been included in the analysis so the numbers in the table and chart below add up to more than the total number of respondents)

Table 1. Reasons for joining REAP

Reason	Number
Local, sense of community, meeting like-minded people	22
Focus on environment /Fits my values	20

Concerns about Global warming/climate change	8

Involvement in REAP activities

Members want to get more involved with REAP. This is very encouraging, particularly the younger people and those with young families who have joined recently.

- Active - 33 members are already involved in REAP activities or are willing to do more.
- 8 members currently do not have time, are involved with other things or are moving away
- 3 members want to do more when they retire
- 20 members did not respond or could not participate in the survey

Skills and interests

The majority of the 33 members who were willing to get more involved were interested in one –off or short term practical activities such as tree planting, events and gardening. A smaller number offered to contribute to home energy, waste reduction and IT activities.

Our members have a wide range of personal and professional interests, skills and experiences to contribute to the development of REAP's activities. These include involving children and young people, gardening and horticulture, footpaths, plastics and recycling, home energy and insulation, community development and Leeds City Council services. Several members have experience as school governors and trustees of charities.

Other groups and organisations

Over 2/3 (30 members - 68%) of our respondents are involved with other local and national organisations with an environmental focus. These include

- FORP, other Friends of... groups including Wykebeck Valley Woods, Gledhow Valley Woods (10 members)
- Other local groups - Church green groups, Allotments, Woodcraft Folk, Repair café, Community Clothes Exchange, Feed Leeds (13 members)
- National environmental campaign groups - Friends of the Earth, Greenpeace, XR (7)
- National special interest groups – RSPB, Plantlife, Wildlife trusts, BTCV, (10 members)

These connections provide good opportunities for joint work, information sharing and recruiting new members for REAP.

What people like about REAP

This was not a specific question in the survey but several respondents told us what they liked and appreciated about REAP.

- Members update (16 comments) "Informal and conversational style"
- Farmers Market *8 comments) "It's the flagship"
- Practical focus of gardening group, Edible bed and Open gardens (6 comments)
- Organisation and activities (5 comments)

"REAP is unique because it's local" quote from member

Section B. What do our members want REAP to do ?

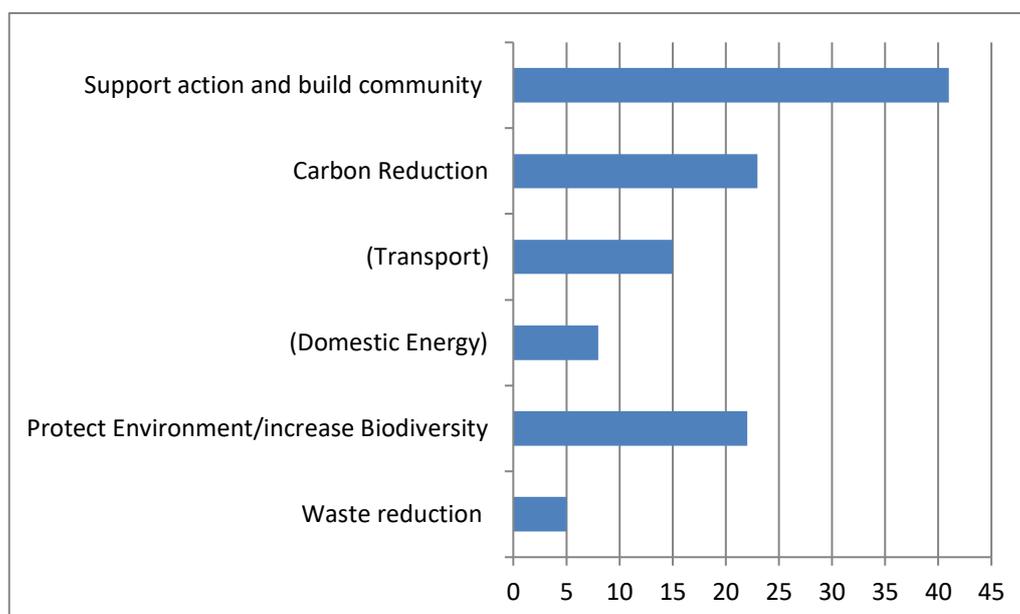

This section includes answers to two questions, "What would you like REAP to offer to members" and "What issues should be a priority for REAP" Respondents had lots of ideas.

Summary

- Our members want REAP to provide practical, local activities that will help them to change their lifestyles, talk to likeminded people and become more actively involved in community projects that will improve their environment and combat threats.
- The issues that matter most to people are protecting the natural environment, increasing biodiversity, influencing transport strategy and reducing domestic energy use. This is very much in line with REAP's current activities.
- Members want to see events, publicity and promotion and collaboration with local and national groups with shared interests

Most people made several suggestions. Every idea and issue that was mentioned is included in the detailed analysis below so the totals do not add up to 44. Suggestions have been grouped under the themes of REAP's aims and are summarised in this graph. For more information on REAP's aims, achievements and plans see "What is REAP and what do we stand for" (Insert web link)
